Tribridge Adds Microsoft Project Server Expertise and Expands SharePoint Practice Through Acquisition of Orlando-based Enterprise Project Management Consultancy

Tribridge has acquired Xcelligent, a project management boutique technology firm specializing in Microsoft Project Server and Microsoft SharePoint training, development and consulting.

Tampa, Fla. (May 1, 2011) Tribridge (www.tribridge.com), a leading U.S.-based IT services and business consulting firm, today announced the purchase of privately-held Xcelligent, a Microsoft Gold Partner based in Orlando that helps customers enhance project management using Microsoft Project Server and SharePoint. Financial terms of the transaction were not disclosed.

“We have partnered with Xcelligent many times in the past and are delighted to have them on board,” said Tony DiBenedetto, Tribridge chairman and CEO. “We have thousands of customers across the U.S. that will benefit from their project management and SharePoint expertise.”

Xcelligent is a process and project management consulting organization known for helping businesses leverage Microsoft portal, collaboration and enterprise project management solutions to solve complex challenges. The Xcelligent consulting team has developed significant expertise in process mapping and workflow, performance management and analytics for project-driven companies.

“We’re eager to join the team,” said Josh Portnoy, co-owner of Xcelligent. “Tommy and I have always been impressed with the customer-centric culture at Tribridge and look forward to adding our skills to the Tribridge services mix.”

Josh Portnoy and Tommy Simon, partners and co-owners of Xcelligent, will join Tribridge along with the rest of the Xcelligent team. Mr. Portnoy will assume the Microsoft Project Server Practice Manager role, while Mr. Simon will join the sales organization as a Business Development Manager.
